ASSET ALLOCATION REVIEW

FELRA and UFCW Benefit Funds

December 15, 2021

Asset Allocation Overview

- The asset allocation review is provided to assist the Trustees in identifying portfolios that meet the investment objectives, risk tolerance, and liquidity requirements of the Fund.

- The IPS Investment Committee develops and utilizes capital market assumptions for various asset classes to help determine the optimal mix of assets for an investment portfolio. These assumptions are forward-looking projections of an asset class' expected return and risk as measured by standard deviation or volatility of returns.

- All return assumptions are "net of fee" market or index returns and do not include alpha or excess return expected to be generated through active management. Return assumptions are the average expected return over the next 10 – 20 years and not the expected return in any given year.

- IPS capital market assumptions are compared with various assumptions from other providers and published resources for reasonableness. The IPS Investment Committee reviews the assumptions on a semiannual basis but may adjust at anytime, as needed, based on severe market dislocations, sudden changes in interest rates, or extreme events that impact global markets, economic development, and the business cycle.

- IPS capital market assumptions are not a guarantee of future performance. Actual results may differ from the projections included in this review.

- The asset allocation modeling requires the mathematical construction of an efficient frontier of various portfolios with distinct asset allocations and risk and return characteristics. The modeling process also requires the imposition of constraints, so that the efficient frontier represents a prudently diversified portfolio with adequate consideration of the liquidity needs and investment time horizon. Unconstrained optimization frequently generates allocations that have superior risk/reward characteristics, but the resulting allocations may not be adequately diversified and/or may have inappropriate allocations to illiquid investments.

- IPS utilizes the Wilshire Compass system for asset allocation modeling and all returns are based on geometric calculation.

The Asset Allocation modeling requires the mathematical construction of an efficient frontier of various portfolios with distinct asset allocations and risk and return characteristics. The modeling process also requires the imposition of constraints, so that the efficient frontier represents a prudently diversified portfolio with adequate consideration of the liquidity needs and investment time horizon. Unconstrained optimization frequently generates allocations that have superior risk/reward characteristics, but the resulting allocations may not be adequately diversified and/or may have high allocations to illiquid investments.

The constraints shown are used for modeling purposes only. They should not be construed as suggested or recommended allocations, or limits on allocations, to any asset class or investment strategy. Each client fund has different facts, circumstances, time horizon, risk tolerance levels, return objectives, investment preferences, cash flows, and liquidity requirements. As such, each client's investment policy may differ materially from the constraints shown above.

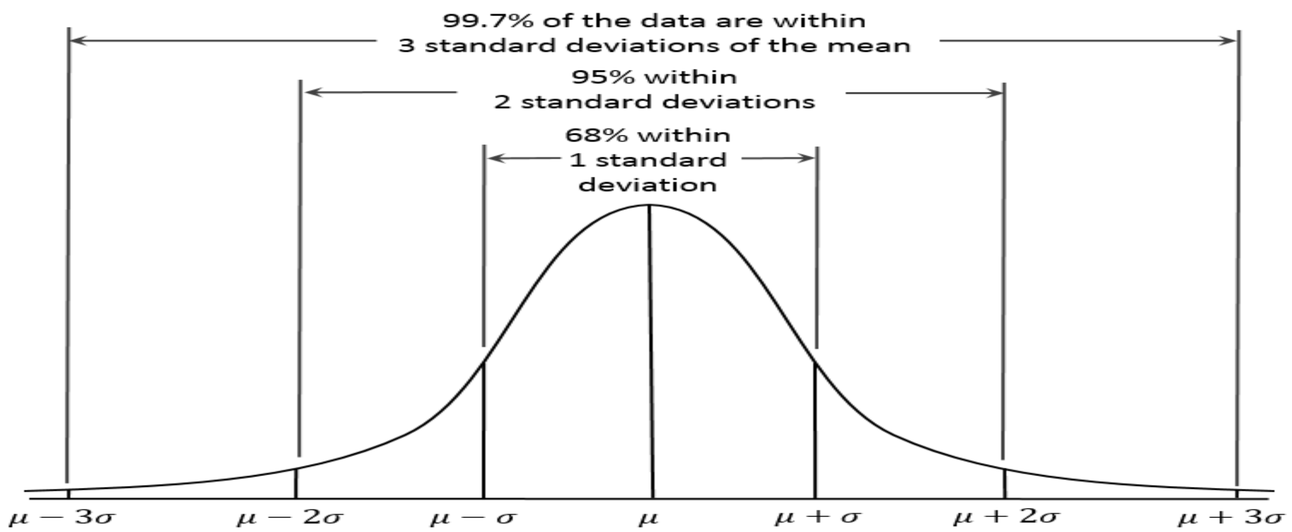
APPENDIX

Explanation of Methodology

- The analysis in this presentation utilizes the parametric method, also known as the variance-covariance method

- The parametric method assumes a normal distribution of returns, commonly referred to as a bell-shaped curve.
  - For a normal distribution, 68% of the observations are within +/- one standard deviation, 95% are within +/- two standard deviations, and 99.7% are within +/- three standard deviations

- The chart below shows a normal distribution



- In reality, financial returns are not “normal;” they exhibit positive skewness (you get more positive returns above the mean than a normal distribution would predict) and kurtosis (the extreme “tails” of both positive and negative returns occur more often and are more extreme than a normal distribution would predict).

Re: TriState Capital (Chartwell parent) by Raymond James Financial

Background

On October 20, 2021, Chartwell Investment Partners (“Chartwell”) announced that their parent company, TriState Capital Holdings (“TriState”), has agreed to be acquired by Raymond James Financial (“RJF”). Upon closing of the transaction, Chartwell will become an affiliate of Carillon Tower, the asset management subsidiary of RJF. The transaction is pending regulatory approval and is not expected to close until late Q1 or early Q2 2022. The acquisition of TriState, and subsequently Chartwell, will result in a change in control event.

The FELRA Benefit Funds have exposure to Chartwell’s short duration high yield strategy.

Pension Fund:

- Short duration high yield strategy ($14.5M)

Health and Welfare Fund:

- Short duration high yield strategy ($2.8M)

Request

You may have received (or will be receiving) a letter from Chartwell requesting acknowledgement and agreement to their ownership change. Due to the U.S. Investment Advisers Act of 1940, general partners (Chartwell) require the consent of investors for change in control events. As the RJF acquisition of TriState, and subsequently Chartwell, results in such a change, Chartwell is requesting its clients acknowledge and consent to the ownership change.

Chartwell's communication offers investors who elect to consent three options to sign and return the consent form: (1) via e-mail to haupt@chartwellip.com; (2) via fax to 610-407-4859 or; (3) via U.S. Postal Service to Chartwell Investment Partners (Attn: Consents), 1205 Westlakes Drive, Suite 100, Berwyn, PA 19312.

Impact

RJF is a publicly-held firm and has agreed to acquire TriState in a combination cash/stock transaction. The name and branding for both TriState and Chartwell are not expected to change; Chartwell will operate as an affiliate firm of Carillon Tower, which currently maintains five investment manager affiliates (Chartwell would be the sixth). Carillon Tower appears to allow its investment manager affiliates to maintain autonomy over their investment portfolios. At this time, no departures from the Chartwell investment teams are expected as a result of the transaction.

Recommendation

As this transaction is not expected to have an immediate impact on the Chartwell investment teams, IPS recommends clients consent to the ownership change, subject to counsel review. Action required.

Should the Trustees approve the recommendation, consent forms are due back to Chartwell within 60 days of receipt of the letter (on or around January 7, 2022), as noted above. Additionally, your IPS consultant will discuss the ownership change at the next scheduled Board of Trustees meeting if it has not already been addressed at a recent meeting.

Glossary of Investment Terminology

Total Return	The annual return on an investment including appreciation, depreciation and income (interest, dividends, net operating income).
Alpha	The excess return (positive or negative) generated by active portfolio management and security selection, relative to a benchmark.
Beta	A historical measure of an investment's volatility relative to the market. The beta of the market is 1.0 (as represented by a benchmark such as the S&P 500 Index). A beta of greater than 1.0 indicates an investment with greater volatility than the benchmark. A beta of less than 1.0 indicates less volatility than the benchmark.
Standard Deviation	Standard deviation is a statistical measurement of the dispersion of a set of data from its mean. The more spread apart the data are, the greater the standard deviation.
Risk	For an investment portfolio, risk is typically defined as the volatility of the returns, as measured by calculating the standard deviation. The risk does not necessarily indicate the risk of loss, but does indicate the risk of inconsistent returns.
Capture Ratio	Calculates how well a manager performs in a rising or falling market as a percentage of a benchmark. In a rising market, a percentage of 100 or better is preferred, and indicates the manager exceeded the benchmark (upside capture ratio). In a falling market, a percentage of less than 100 is preferred, indicating that the manager lost less than the benchmark (downside capture ratio).
Correlation	A statistical measure of how two asset classes perform in relation to each other. Asset classes with a correlation of 1.0 have perfect positive correlation (exactly the same). Assets with perfect negative correlation of -1.0 will perform equally but in opposite directions.
Efficient Frontier	A series of portfolios with the maximum expected return for any level of risk, which is calculated based on assumptions of risk, return and correlation. These portfolios are shown graphically on a risk and return chart, and represent the most efficient tradeoff between risk and return.
Market Cap	The dollar value of a corporation, which is calculated by multiplying the share price and the number of outstanding shares.
Large Cap	Stocks which typically have a market capitalization of $10 billion or higher.
Mid Cap	Stocks which typically have a market capitalization of $2 to $10 billion.
Small Cap	Stocks which typically have a market capitalization of $2 billion or less.
Geometric Calculation	Geometric Calculations are used when determining an annualized investment return and tends to dampen the effect of very high or very low values. The result is a number that is smaller than (or equal to) the arithmetic average of the values.
Compound Annual Returns	Compound annual returns show the annual investment return, assuming the investment grew at a constant rate, and reflects the impact of the time in the calculation of an investment return.
Return/Risk Ratio	The return/risk ratio is the expected return of an investment divided by the expected standard deviation (risk). When comparing return/risk ratios a higher value is presumed to be better than a lower value
